

FORMER GREENSBURG MAYOR KILLS HIMSELF AFTER SHOOTING CHILDREN

Awful Tragedy Enacted in Westmoreland County This Morning—Daughter Dies, Others Serious.

FINANCIAL TROUBLE CAUSE

Perry Had Been Organizer For the Moose and His Accounts Are Believed to Have Been Short—Wife Died a Year Ago—Baby Escapes.

Special to The Courier.

GREENSBURG, Nov. 6.—Mentally ill because of financial reverses, E. J. Perry, former Burgess of Greensburg, organizer of the Local Order of Moose, and one of the best known residents of this place, this morning shot down three of his little children and then himself. One of the victims, Elizabeth, aged 12, died on her way to the hospital, but the two boys have a chance for recovery.

The dead. E. J. Perry, shot himself and died instantly. Elizabeth Perry, aged 12, shot by father and died on way to hospital. The injured. RICHARD PERRY, aged 11. EDWARD PERRY, aged 10.

The tragedy occurred about 10 o'clock this morning. Perry came down for breakfast about that time. He did not, however, wait to eat anything. Looking hastily through his mail, which had been brought earlier in the morning, he picked up a revolver and walked upstairs.

Entering the room in which the three children had been sleeping, he fired three shots, each taking effect in one of the children. Turning the weapon on himself, Perry fired a bullet into his own brain and died instantly.

Hearing the shots the maid, named Carey, ran to the room and the gruesome sight was revealed. The three children screamed piteously from the pain of their wounds. Perry was stretched upon the floor, where he dropped after having turned the weapon on himself.

The maid ran screaming to Mrs. Perry, aged 22, mother of Perry, and who had kept house for him since the death of his wife a year ago. Mrs. Perry collapsed. A State Constable, passing along the street at the time, heard the shots and proceeded to investigate. At the same time Dr. L. J. C. Bailey also entered to conduct an investigation.

The injured children were hurried into Dr. Bailey's automobile and hurried to the hospital. Little Elizabeth died on the way to the institution. The boys have about an even chance at recovery.

That Margaret, the year old baby, did not meet a fate similar to that of her brothers and sister is due to the fact that she had been carried down stairs earlier in the morning.

Perry, it is believed, was in financial trouble. Of late he had developed a morbid temperament and his disposition was such that scores of his friends noticed the change that had come over him. He was formerly in the undertaking business in Greensburg, but of late had been connected with the Moose as an organizer. It is believed that his financial accounts with this order were not correct. From 1903 to 1906 he was Mayor of Greensburg. He was a Democrat.

At one time Perry was President of the Pennsylvania State Firemen's Association. The cause of the shooting is unknown, but it is declared he was behind in his rent and had been told that his furniture would be levied on. It is supposed this preyed on Perry's mind.

SMALL BOY MISSING AT MT. BRADDOCK

Edward Harvey, Aged 13, Has Not Been Home Since Last Saturday.

Missing for a week, efforts are being made to locate Edward Harvey, aged 13, who disappeared from his home at Mt. Braddock last Saturday. He is the son of Mrs. Mary Harvey of that place.

When last seen the boy wore a blue coat and gray sweater. His cap was gray. The mother is at a loss to assign any reason for the lad leaving home and is using every effort to locate the lad. It is believed that he may be found in Connellsville or Uniontown, although it is possible he may have gone to Pittsburgh.

Young Harvey carried papers at Mt. Braddock for a number of years and is a well known in the little mining settlement.

A PATENT ON PUMP GRANTED CYRUS STONER

Intended For Mine Purposes and Has Many Admirable Features, Experts Say.

Cyrus Stoner, general Superintendent at the Boys, Porter & Company plant, has been granted a patent on a new mine pump which is believed by experts will in many respects outclass all other makes. At the present time there is being constructed at the plant a model pump 10x5x12 which is calculated will pump 300 gallons of water per hour.

The main feature of the pump is an automatic valve motion, a rotary auxiliary valve being used. The action of the pump is in this manner made automatic, pumping water every minute that there is any to pump. Its main feature of saving is that it does away with the oil cylinder, the slide valve and the oscillating valve. Its operation, it is claimed, is much cheaper than all lines.

The test pump now being built will be used as a practical demonstration of the value of the new piece of machinery and will be taken into the mines of the coke region in order to prove its value. It is the first new type of pump to be patented in many years.

A NEW DIVISION FOR BELL COMPANY

Thomas Simpson Has Been Placed in Charge as Special Agent in Connellsville.

Owing to the rapidly increasing business it has been necessary for the Bell Telephone Company to form a new division with Connellsville as the head office. Thomas Simpson has been placed in charge as Special Agent. His territory extends from Dunbar to West Newton and he is in direct supervision over the offices within that limit.

Mr. Simpson, in turn, makes his report to Division Superintendent P. J. Murphy at Uniontown. It is likely that the new arrangement will necessitate the employment of a larger force at this place.

WRECK ON THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

Five Persons Killed and Upwards of 200 Passengers Injured, Many of Them Fatally, in New York Early This Morning.

United Press Telegram.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 6.—Five persons were instantly killed and upwards of 200 passengers injured this morning when the Pennsylvania railroad's Philadelphia local ran into an open switch in this city and crashed into a yard engine. Four passenger cars were piled in a heap of wreckage. The scenes were pitiful as scores of passengers were dragged from the wrecked cars.

All of the ambulances in the city and the patrol wagons were rushed to the scene of the accident to carry the injured to the hospitals.

It is feared many of those injured are fatally hurt. The wreck occurred on an elevated structure on which the Pennsylvania railroad enters the city. The fire department was called out and carried the dead and injured from the hanging cars to the street level. The dead are: both the engineers, two fireman and a track walker who was sitting in the cab of the switch engine. The passenger train toppled over on its side and was dragged along the elevated structure for some distance when it hit the switch engine.

In the express car of the wrecked train was a shipment of $1,000,000 from Philadelphia banks to New York. Guards were placed about the car immediately after the wreck.

The loss of the express car was $1,000,000.

How the fire originated is a mystery. The men sleeping in a nearby stable were aroused by a bright light and found the fire to be far beyond control. A telephone message was sent to Greensburg for aid but on account of the nearest fire plug being at Zippie's corner, Arch and Harvey streets, a connection long enough to reach the fire could not be made.

Topic Debated by High School Societies on Friday.

ON SAME BASIS AS CHINESE

Balance of the Programs Rendered Yesterday—Officers Will Be Elected at the Next Regular Meeting in Two Weeks.

At the regular meetings of the Connellsville and Philo Literary Societies of the High School held yesterday afternoon it was decided by both societies that the Japanese should be restricted from entering the United States on the same terms as the Chinese. The question was debated and the judges gave their decision in favor of the affirmative. The debaters were: Philo affirmative: Lon Lowmyer, Edna Cooper; negative, Florence Patterson and Bernard McFarland; Connellsville affirmative: Lyell Battimore and Clara Baker; negative, Judson Swartzwelder and Mabel Cummings. The question was one of great interest and the young debaters representing the two sides brought up some very fine arguments.

The Philo society met in the High School chapel. Selections on Japan were given by those who participated in the program. The remainder of the program was as follows: recitations, Esther Towsey, Howard Reppert, Donald Goodwin and Gertrude Mills; story classes, Ellen Sherrick, Mary Cox, Emma Grace Dunn and Ray Towsey; essays, Blanche Lucas, Ray Metzgar, Elizabeth Fleckenstein and Olive Bloom; orations, Clarence Smith, Jessie Moore, Gerald Schoenover; paper, Marie Guiler. A piano solo was well rendered by Miss Marian Munson. Nomination of officers preceded the program. The election will take place at the next meeting.

The Connellsville Society met in the Carnegie Free Library hall and including the debate carried out the following program on Japan: essays, George McElrott, Mabel Jaynes, Mary Eaton and Jacob Yeocum; orations, Beryl Everett, Mary Gans, Malcolm Scott, Howard Anthony, Anna Rebecca Meyers; recitations, Dagmar Hewes, Clyde Gillett, Alex Bonnet; story class, William Sturgis, Norman Marshall, Clara Morrison, Freda Miller; paper, Leon Lane. THE BROOKS LAW IS GIVEN A JOLT.

Justice Elkin Makes First Order of Reversal on Lower Body.

BREWERY LICENSE ORDERED

Justice Mestrezat in a Dissenting Opinion Says Effect of Law is Nullified. Opinion Sweeps Aside Wide Discretion.

For the first time since the passage of the Brooks liquor license law in 1891 the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which rose yesterday after sitting six weeks in Pittsburgh, by a vote of 4 to 3, reversed a Quarter Sessions Court and ordered a license granted. The case was that of the Indiana Brewing Company, which was refused a license by the Quarter Sessions Court of Indiana county, and appealed its case. Justice John P. Elkin wrote the opinion of four judges who concurred, while the strongest of the three dissenting opinions was written by Justice S. L. Mestrezat. He declares that in this case the Supreme Court has reversed itself, making the act of Assembly void and taking from the lower court the right to grant licenses, which he states, the law gives to that court alone. Justice William P. Potter and John Stewart also wrote opinions.

The Indiana Brewing Company was refused a brewer's license by the Indiana county courts on the ground that it is an unfit corporation and upon an appeal to the Superior Court the lower court's decision was affirmed and the case was taken to the Supreme Court by special order. The case was argued before the full bench. Justice Elkin in the opinion reversing the lower court says:

There is presented for determination the narrow question, does the weight of the evidence gathered from the petitions and remonstrances furnish a legal reason for refusing a license? The only argument contained in the remonstrance is that the applicant is not a fit corporation to be licensed and upon this naked argument, more numerous signed by persons objecting to the granting of the license, than by those who favored it, the learned Judge found that the unfitness of the applicant had been established by the weight of the evidence.

The conclusion was made under the act of 1891. The most casual reading of the act will show that the drafterman had in mind the primary granting of licenses to natural persons and the phraseology as well as the requirements followed this primary purpose.

A corporation has no personal attributes and cannot be licensed by its corporate acts. In the present case the only argument in the remonstrance upon which the Court bases its finding is that the applicant was not a fit corporation to be licensed. This is clearly significant.

Justice Mestrezat, in dissenting, writes an even longer opinion than that of Justice Elkin. He cites numerous decisions against the standard, by the majority of the court and says in part:

This Court has nothing to do with the evidence in the case or in determining whether its weight is in favor or against the application. It has no authority to examine and consider the petition or remonstrance and consider the petition or remonstrance or any evidence which was produced at the hearing for the purpose of determining the facts.

Those matters were for the Quarter Sessions and for that Court only, and when this Court attempts, as it does to consider and determine the weight of the evidence for and against the license it is confronted by an unbroken line of our own decisions condemning its action.

The reason assigned by the Quarter Sessions for refusing the license is a valid one under the act of Assembly, and hence an Appellate Court cannot inquire into the reason or determine whether the evidence sustains the Quarter Sessions in its conclusions.

I regard the ruling of the majority of the Court as entire departure from all the adjudicated decisions of both Appellate courts of this Commonwealth. It practically annuls the act of Assembly and denies the right to grant license by the Court of the Quarter Sessions. The only ground invoked by the laws of the Commonwealth with that power. It assumes the authority to interfere in a significant manner with a proceeding in a Court of first instance, which has never heretofore been attempted in this Commonwealth.

I object to granting this license because the members of this Court have no authority to usurp the functions of the Quarter Sessions and determine

Madame Is Using All Her Wits, Although Still Under Great Stress.

United Press Special.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The first witness in the Steinhilber case today was Remy Coufflard, the valet, first accused of the murders by Madame. His testimony showed inconsistencies to the statement made previously.

He said he found Mme. Steinhilber tied insecurely to the bed with light cords. In a statement following the murder he declared she was bound securely, hand and foot, nude to the throat, her nightgown being knotted there.

Eighty-seven witnesses will be called in the Steinhilber trial. The trial has reached the stage where the verdict will be either acquittal or the guillotine. Still under stress, the woman is using all her wits, frequently questioning witnesses.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF MODERN WOODMEN

Dunbar Camp No. 7, 159 Entertains Ladies at Supper in the M. E. Church.

Special to The Courier. DUNBAR, Nov. 6.—Dunbar Camp, No. 7159 Modern Woodmen of America, celebrated their tenth anniversary last night by tendering to their lady friends a supper in the basement of the M. E. Church. The camp was organized ten years ago with the following members: John T. Byers, John S. Carroll, Brown Colley, Frank A. Frost, William Jacobs, R. J. McGee, Epton D. Speer, Buell Tarr, J. R. Robinson, R. M. Carroll, S. A. Davidson, Theodore Hockley, Robert Maist, Charles Nemon, Wm. H. Stealing, James Tarr and C. A. Wagner.

The present membership is now 62. Hon. John S. Carroll acted as toastmaster for the occasion last night and speeches were made by Buell Tarr, Theodore Hockley, R. J. McGee and Stuart B. Marshall.

A statistical report was read by the secretary, Charles Nemon, which showed the camp to be in a prosperous condition. Eighty plates were laid for the occasion. At the close a vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of the M. E. Church. The future prospects of the camp are very bright.

WORK STARTED.

Placing Storm Inlets, Though State Authorities Are Reluctant.

Hildebrand & Chard have begun work of putting in storm water inlets on East Main street, permission for which was reluctantly granted by the State Board of Health upon application by Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg. This is contrary to the policy of the department in regard to sewage disposal. The permit was issued with the understanding that these inlets are to be but temporary.

When the new sewage disposal plant is built, in the distant future, the storm water must be carried off in different pipes from that which holds the other sewage. The reason for this is that the cost of treating the sewage would be prohibitive during a heavy downpour if the surface water entered the sewer pipes.

EXTERMINATE GAME? LOOK AT THIS OUTFIT

There Should Be a Shortage of Game After They Get Back From the Mountains.

If there isn't a wholesale extermination of game in the mountains today it will not be because the two parties which departed for the sylvan fastness were not properly equipped. If the hunters do not bring back game it will not be because they do not possess the proper accoutrements. One Straub, Cal Brown and Tony Dunlop formed one party. It was a hard task for them to get their traps together and at the last moment it was discovered that the ammunition had not been supplied. Tony started for the ammunition store.

"What kind of shells are you going to get?" asked Straub. "Rabbit shells, of course, you must," was Tony's unimpassioned reply to this demonstration of ignorance on the part of a member of his party. Straub snickered and if he asked any more questions it was after they arrived at Indian Creek.

W. D. McGinnis, J. Donald Porter and Ralph K. Long started for Stewart on the same train. They took a dog with them. McGinnis borrowed the animal but was not sure if he isn't gun-shy.

McGinnis was in full regalia. He had a new hunting suit and purchased a pair of new shoes especially for the occasion. The feature of his rig was the game bag, said to have been bought last week to hold the Democratic majority in the Fifth Ward. This was big enough to cart all the game in Stewart township. If the sharpshooters can land any of it. On the fourth floor of the Title & Trust Company odds were quoted at 2 to 1 that McGinnis will quit before noon.

Other wagers, at odds ranging from even money to 5 to 5 were laid that he will not hit what he aims at.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE OF BAPTISTS CLOSSES

Addresses Delivered by Philadelphia and Montana Ministers—Experience With the Indians.

The joint missionary conference of the Baptist churches of this section which has been in session in the local church was brought to a close last evening with fine addresses delivered by Dr. Jacob Saltsch of Philadelphia, and Rev. Agur, superintendent of the Missions in Montana. The meeting opened with devotional services in charge of Rev. B. Frank Willis of the United Presbyterian Church, followed by a vocal solo rendered by Miss Vera Wagner of Philadelphia. Dr. Saltsch then gave an excellent talk along the line of missionary work after which Rev. Agur took up the next period with an address, the subject of which was "A Voice From Montana." Rev. Agur spoke at length on his experience with the Indians, of their habits and customs.

JACK, THE BEAR, WAS LOOSE IN HAAS HOUSE

He Caused a Commotion at Midnight by Nocturnal Prowlings Through Hotel.

There was a commotion in the Haas hotel on Water street at midnight when Jack, one of Andy Haas' pet bears, got loose and began roaring about the hostelry. Instead of running away, Jack proceeded to enter the hotel on a tour of inspection. He found a vacant room on the second floor and looked it over. He expertly started the electric bell and started a terrific jangle in the office below.

Not satisfied with this, Jack scratched on the door of room No. 2 and awakened the little Haas girls. They opened the door and cut loose a piercing scream when they saw the shaggy animal standing erect before them.

The noise frightened the bear so badly that he ran up to the third floor, where Mrs. Haas found him after he had aroused by the cries of her children. Andy roared the animal down stairs and chained him up for the night.

Jack arrived from North Carolina more than a month ago and adapted himself to conditions without causing any trouble. He is even more gentle than Louie, the animal that has been at the Haas House for more than a year.

Mr. Haas is having a big iron cage made at the Connelleville iron works and this is to be erected Tuesday. It will make it unnecessary to keep the bears chained. The Haas menagerie is now limited to the two bears and a "coon. There were other animals but these died or were disposed of before Mr. Haas returned to the hotel.

IRON WORKS GET LARGE CONTRACT

Receive Contract For $12,000 Cold Blast Main For Dunbar Furnace Company.

The Connelleville Iron Works, the thriving West Side industry, received a good contract today when it closed with the Dunbar Furnace Company for the construction of a new cold blast main for the furnaces at a cost of $12,000.

The work will be started upon immediately and the contract calls for its completion by January 31, 1910. Along with other contracts on hand this one insures almost night and day operation of the plant.

All matters in connection with the purchase of additional ground from L. P. Roth in erect new buildings have been completed and the construction work will begin as soon as plans are completed. Owing to limited operation the company recently had to turn down a large order and the promoters who are all Connelleville people have determined to place the plant in such shape that it can handle all business offered.

WEALTHY MRS. W. H. CHAPMAN FLEES FROM EUROPEAN SUITORS.

Mrs. William Harvey Chapman, the young widow whose European photographs did a year ago leaving her $100,000, has returned to America, declaring she was forced to flee from Europe to escape a swarm of titled suitors. The English papers have had her engaged so nearly every titled single man in the Old World in the last six months, and when she arrived in New York she took occasion to deny that she had paid any heed to those fortune seeking admirers except possibly one. Just before she sailed it was reported that she was to wed the son of Lord Falconer. This she said was absurd. She was not an emigrant, however, when General Spradell, an officer of the Russian Army was mentioned. It is believed that she and the general are really engaged.

Kearney works at Sunshine and was headed that way when he was over-come by drink on Water street yesterday morning.

Lawrence Muncey, a West Side negro, admitted being disorderly and took 48 hours in the absence of the necessary fine.

CUTICURA CURED HIS SORE EYES

When 63 Years Old Eye-Balls and Lids Became Terribly Inflamed—Was Unable to Go About—Home Remedies and Professional Treatment were Equally Unsuccessful.

TOOK FRIEND'S ADVICE: HAS NO MORE TROUBLE

"About two years ago my eyes got in such a condition that I was unable to go about. They were terribly inflamed, both the balls and lids. I tried home remedies without relief. When I decided to go to our family physician, but he didn't help them. Then I tried two more of our most prominent physicians, but my eyes grew continually worse. At this time a friend of mine advised me to try Cuticura Ointment, and after using it about one week my eyes were considerably improved and in two weeks they were almost well. They have never given me any trouble since. I was then sixty-three years old and am now sixty-five. I shall never fail to speak a word of praise for the Cuticura Remedies when I have an opportunity, and I think that this letter may be the means of others being cured as I have been. G. B. Halsey, Mouth of Wilson, Grayson Co., Va., Apr. 4, 1908."

SKINS ON FIRE With Torturing, Disfiguring Eczemas, Rashes

Quality Considered Prices Are Lower Than Elsewhere.

This applies to every department in each of our sixty-three general stores. We substantiate this statement daily. The best evidence is the large quantity of goods we sell, not only to people living in the coke works, but to a large number of people living in towns throughout the coke region and not employees.

Compare our Groceries and Provisions with the opposition's throughout the region. Compare the prices, compare the quality, compare the quantity we handle, and you will easily conclude that we are in a position, as very extensive dealers, to excel all competition. Our prices are lower because we buy in such large quantities. The quality is always good. Perishable goods are not kept in our stores long enough to become the least bit bad. The quantity sold at any one of our stores is as large as any opposition store—then remember we have sixty-three stores.

McKESPORT'S LOUD CRY OF PROTEST.

The McKesport News warns the people of that city to "go slow in the matter of the construction of a sewage disposal plant," because "to obey the law will be to bankrupt the city."

It asserts that the improvement will cost more than the city has or can borrow, and it inquires with indignation why McKesport is being forced to act now, while other cities are left alone.

It appears, however, that The News has a very hazy idea of the actual cost of the improvement, the estimates varying all the way from $250,000 to $1,000,000. It seems that bids were asked and opened this week. We are not advised at this writing what the bids have disclosed, but the matter is not important to the present consideration of the question in the abstract.

It is sufficient to say for the peace of mind of our esteemed contemporary and its estimable constituency that McKesport cannot be forced into bankruptcy by the State Health Department. It cannot be compelled to go into debt beyond the legal limit by any power in the State. Acts of Assembly cannot contravene the Constitution. The latter forbids boroughs and cities of McKesport's class from incurring indebtedness above two per centum of their assessed valuation without the consent of the people at the polls, and with that consent the limit is placed at seven per centum.

The State might have power to compel the municipal authorities to submit the question of incurring additional indebtedness for the purpose of constructing sanitary sewerage systems and sewage disposal plants, but it cannot compel the consent of the voters. If they defeat the proposition at the polls the State has no other coercive power.

The necessity of freeing our waters from pollution is apparent. The public health and life of the future, if not of the present, demand it. But it is also apparent that a great many Pennsylvania cities and towns, if not the most of them, cannot singly and alone bear the expense of this modern public improvement, and that in the meantime the State will have to extend its aid, "that aid should be equitable. Some must be shouldered by others at once to bear the burden, even if they are able to shoulder it, while others are subsequently helped by a paternal government.

McKesport is not alone in its disability. Conneltsville will not be able to make this improvement without exceeding the Constitutional limit of her indebtedness, and we may add that Conneltsville does not expect to violate the Constitution.

We do not understand, however, that the State Health Department demands the immediate construction of sanitary sewerage systems and sewage disposal plants, but only asks that it be furnished with topographical surveys, plans and estimates of the cost of the work. With these, and with statements of the municipal finances of the cities and boroughs, the State Health Department will be able to estimate with approximate accuracy the amount of State aid that will be necessary, and thus the great civic problem will have advanced to a point where its solution will be in sight.

We do not speak with the voice of authority, but we are led to these conclusions because they are logical and reasonable, and they are measurably born out by The News, which says:

Representative Woodward, one of the makers of the law that is just now of such importance to every municipality in the State, is authority for the statement that it is not the State's intention that any city shall be forced to build a sewage disposal plant right away. He does not think it would be the proper course for Congress to take action to force the time upon the people just at this time for his thinking a sewage disposal plant will be a good thing for every municipality in the State and McKesport could wait perhaps five years before starting work on the system after the plan of our present sewerage system has been tried with the State Department.

posed to act by taxing arbitrarily the production of such of its natural resources as are largely sold and consumed outside of the State, as for example coal and coke and oil and lumber, and thus let the consumers who are largely non-residents pay the lion's share of the cost of our improvements. We know this plan would be inequitable, and we suspect it would be unlawful; but if other States discriminate against us, and that discrimination is held to be proper and legal, we will be justified in retaliating to the best of our circumstances and ability.

In the meantime, however, we will hope that no Pennsylvania community will be bankrupted by the State in the enforcement of a necessary public improvement, or that the citizens of one State will be unduly discriminated against by the citizens of another State. The one proposition is contrary to the Constitution of the State; the other is in violation of the spirit, if not the letter of the Constitution of the United States.

WEST VIRGINIA'S MUDDY INTELLIGENCE.

Concerning the West Virginia proposition to levy an arbitrary and onerous State tax on its natural gas production, with a view to raising all kinds of money for all kinds of extravagance, the Washington Reporter states the case briefly but clearly after the following fashion:

Now that the election is over it is probable that Governor Glasscock, of West Virginia, will issue a proclamation for an extra session of the legislature to carry out his plan of placing a tax on the production of natural gas. It is estimated that a tax of two cents per thousand feet will raise a revenue of $2,000,000 annually. This amount is several times as large as the present revenues of the State from all sources. As 50 per cent of all the gas produced in West Virginia is shipped to points outside the State it is evident that four-fifths of the tax must be paid by non-residents.

It is proposed to use a large proportion of the gas tax for the construction of public roads. West Virginia is badly in need of a good system of public roads and the sentiment in favor of such a construction is very strong. It will be interesting to notice the progress of this new scheme of taxation. As a large proportion of the gas produced in West Virginia is shipped to Washington, Pittsburgh and other places in Pennsylvania the people of that State will pay indirectly a considerable part of the expense of West Virginia's system of good roads if Governor Glasscock's plan is put through.

The Wheeling Intelligence, whose intelligence is not always enlightening, especially not when it is evidently intended to muddy rather than to clarify a public question, affects to ridicule some things we have said concerning West Virginia taxation and particularly the statement that the proposed natural gas tax will be in effect a tariff tax.

JUSTICE FOR CANDIDATE JONES.

Alfred E. Jones denies the report, industriously circulated in the recent judicial campaign, that he opposed a portion of the Republican legislative ticket in the last election on the Local Option issue. He declares that he opposed certain candidates at the primary, but not at the election.

If this be true, and we have no reason to doubt it, recently, Candidate Jones was the victim of a campaign slander which undoubtedly worked him great evil at the polls. The statement seems to have been made by a Democratic newspaper, but it was allowed to go unchallenged and was accepted by the people generally as a correct statement.

It is not necessary or advisable to deny everything that is said about oneself, but in politics one cannot afford to be under serious imputations like this and by silence seem to make confession.

We think Candidate Jones made a mistake in this matter. It is now too late for vain regrets, but it is not too late to do justice.

Roosevelt—Naughty! Naughty!

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

United Press Special.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Senate's official charged with the administration of the Pure Food Law are doing more to forward the cause of truth than all the Sunday Schools of the land. And, incidentally, they are doing it by giving membership papers in the Amateur Club to more folks than Roosevelt could have recommended for initiation but that institution had been working overtime at the job.

Nowadays it behooves a manufacturer of food products to tell the whole unvarnished truth about his staple on the label. Little, meanly untruths are just as bad, in the eyes of the law, as the shoppers, which the Department of Agriculture, which also checks and sees that the Pure Food Law is obeyed, punishes the small fibber up just as quick as the big liar.

For instance, the other day a certain shipper was fined for misbranding water. It doesn't seem possible to misbrand water, but the shipper was fined for misbranding water. It doesn't seem possible to misbrand water, but the shipper was fined for misbranding water.

A pound can must contain a pound, a quart bottle must contain a quart—otherwise the canner or bottler is liable to fine for misbranding. Recently a judgment was obtained in Kentucky by the department against the canner of one case of canned corn for misbranding. A big shipment of canned tomatoes from Utah was likewise forfeited for the same effect.

An alleged maple syrup company of Los Angeles, which shipped a case of maple syrup with a little maple sugar, was fined because the label read "Pure Maple Syrup." A cereal breakfast food, manufactured up in Connecticut, and advertised as rich concoction of food, which added in the digestion of others, was held under suspicion, because the government chemists found the stuff wasn't really a concentrated food, and didn't stimulate digestion, as claimed on the label. The manufacturers were fined.

The Pure Food Law, it might further be explained, grants the government supervision over all foods either for man or beast, the broadest sort of a weapon against dishonest dealers. Owing to the provision covering food for beasts, some very interesting cases have recently been presented by the government. A large number of manufacturers of chicken food have been fined for misbranding—chickens having been held to be "beasts" within the meaning of the law.

Prosecutions for "misbranding" are frequent. Incidentally, it has been found that not a few farmers of the country are violating the law. The following hypothetical case was recently cited by one of the government law officers:

A farmer lives in Virginia, near Alexandria. He raises a crop of clover hay, but when he gets ready to market it, mixes a lot of timothy with the clover. He loads it, hauls the mixed hay across the Long Bridge, to Washington, and there sells it as "clover hay." He violates the Pure Food Law and is likely to prosecution. The hay isn't "clover hay." It is "clover and timothy." His crossing of Long Bridge, from Virginia to the District of Columbia, makes that hay interstate commerce, within the meaning of the law, and amenable to the Pure Food law.

OF SCOTSDALE JEWELRY SHOP

A. C. Overholt Drilling For Water to Supply Big Apartment House—What Jonas Kennell's Vote Was For Poor Director.

SCOTSDALE, Nov. 6.—An important business deal was consummated last night when the jewelry store of F. E. Litzell was bought by Charles S. Wiley and C. Lee Mellinger, two well known young men of town, who took possession this morning. The store is the oldest of its kind in town having been established by Mr. Litzell over 19 years ago, and having occupied a prominent place on Pittsburg street. The new owners are both Scotsdale boys. Mr. Wiley, who is a bookkeeper in the Scotsdale Bank, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wiley, and Mr. Mellinger a son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mellinger, and having lived here all their lives they are well and favorably known. Mr. Mellinger is a graduate of the school of horology of Philadelphia, and has a wide knowledge of jewelry and two silversmith's trade. The partnership is such as should be very successful. Mr. Litzell has not decided as yet what he will do, but for a year past his health has been such as to indicate that an outdoor life away from the town and counter would be beneficial.

Drilling For Water.
Seeking for independence from the water supply of the town, A. C. Overholt is having a drilled well put down at the northwest corner of his large apartment building on Pittsburg street, and from it hopes to secure a good supply of pure, fresh water for the people who dwell in that building. The water supply of town during the last year has been particularly unsatisfactory, both in quantity and taste, and many have resorted to wells in town. Dick Frots, of near town, is drilling the well, and it is found it is likely that other wells will be drilled.

One Lone Prisoner.
Dan Tully got in wrong last evening and started out to capture W. N. Porter's house, but with the result that Mr. Porter objected and Dan's energy caused a rush of police to the spot following which Dan was placed behind the screen. He was the first prisoner to be in this month.

Civil Service Examination.
Miss Kathryn H. Butler of the Scotsdale postoffice, is today conducting an examination for the position of clerk-carrier in the local postoffice to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Monroe a week ago. The examination is taking place in the Pittsburg street school building.

Road Engineer James H. Watson and his force are busy making repairs at the Pittsburg street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, and are making the crossing much better. Mr. Watson has all his line of truck in line shape.

With Southern Stores.
Miss Jenny Werkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Werkman of E. Wayne, has accepted a position as cashier with the Southern Supply Company, at Grays Landing, and will go there on Monday.

Shoes Going High.
W. H. H. Niswonger who is traveling through West Virginia for a large shoe house was home yesterday and says that throughout West Virginia business conditions have improved greatly within the last couple of months. The price of shoes have increased too, and this prospect is that they will be higher before the winter is over. This will be particularly on working shoes where the manufacturers cannot hide cheap materials or workmanship for them will show by wear, and the price will have to increase. On dress shoes the picture in of cheaper material can be accomplished without raising the price. On the shoes his company sells Mr. Niswonger says that the quality will be maintained and it will be a matter of increasing the price as the manufacturers are pressed by the hide dealers.

Football This Afternoon.
The Scotsdale Scholastics play the Leannette scholastic team at Loucks park this afternoon, and the game promises to be a lively one.

J. M. Kennell's Vote.
There are a great many people who are interested in knowing how Jonas Kennell rolled up the votes over Westmoreland county that landed him in the position of Poor Director. The official count completed last evening showed that he had 11,298 votes while Dan Hoyer who was in fourth place, received 10,112, or 8,565 less. Dixon and R. D. Wolf, the Republican candidates received 12,103 and 11,710 votes respectively.

UNIQUE PUNISHMENT

Midshipmen Show Displeasure at Officer for Maintaining Silence
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 5.—The brigade of midshipmen punished an officer of the department of discipline by a "silence," a unique method of showing displeasure which has not taken place at the academy for some years.

During breakfast, when the officer in question was present with an officer in charge, not a word was spoken during the meal. It is very hard to get at the offenders, as any particular midshipman can claim that he remained silent because he had nothing to say. Nothing except his manner of enforcing regulations and detaining officers is alleged the officer. There are some breaches of regulations sanctioned by tradition among the midshipmen and an officer who interferes is visited with deep seated resentment.

COURT'S DECISION PROTECTS MINERS

Safety Lamps and Appliances Must Be Used in Bituminous Mines.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 5.—The county court yesterday afternoon handed down a decision in a case involving the use of safety appliances in bituminous coal mines, settling a question of paramount importance to coal operators and miners in this section and one that has caused much litigation.

The case grew out of a report made by Mine Inspectors Pratt, Adams, Ross and Phillips following an examination of the Manifold mines of the Youghiogheny & Ohio Coal Company. The report recommended that, except in a small, unmined portion of the mine, safety lamps should be used and safety explosives only employed.

The company took an appeal and the court appointed a board of commissioners composed of James Dilck, Benjamin Perday and Jesse K. Johnson, all mining experts, to investigate. This board reported that the danger from gas in the mine was slight providing safety lamps were used in the pillar workings and wherever gas in appreciable quantities could be discovered and also where the intake airways were sufficient and kept free from floating dust. The board approved the use of safety explosives.

The company claimed the board did not satisfy the inspectors and that it need make no material change in the operation of the mine. The inspectors appealed and filed exceptions. The controversy came up in court last week and the inspectors and company were instructed to reach some agreement, the court ruling that the commissioners' report indicated great latent danger in the mines.

The agreement reached yesterday and approved by the court in its decision, is to the effect that all parts of the mines must be worked with locked safety lamps except those portions which are unmined and the work-out and isolated portions and except in main haulage passages ways, which are to be determined by the mine inspectors and company. The safety lamp explosive recommended by the State Mine Department shall be used. Similar conditions exist in a majority of the mines in the Pittsburg district and similar agreements in most cases will be made.

AN ELECTION ECHO BEFORE SQUIRE BOYLE

Alfred Palmer Permitted S. E. Frook to Mark His Ballot and is Prosecuted.

UNIONTOWN, Nov. 5.—Alfred Palmer gave bail yesterday in the sum of $100 before Squire Boyle for his appearance at a hearing to answer charges of violating the election laws preferred by J. W. Dawson. Palmer let S. E. Frook mark his ballot and Dawson claims he was able to do it himself. Frook went on Palmer's bond.

The police in Uniontown made 22 arrests again yesterday. Of this number 12 left forfeits and enriched the borough to the extent of $47.

When Pat Hayes appeared before Burgess R. S. McCrum for his periodic sentence for being injured by William Briscoe, the sleuth of the Klondyke, telephoned that Hayes was wanted for stealing two round dogs. Hayes was taken before Squire Jeffries for a hearing this afternoon.

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair. No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the hair is crowned with scant hair. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Now, too, the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. BATTLESHIP'S BOILER BURSTS.

Tube Blows Out Injuring Sixteen Men.

FOUR ARE BADLY SCALDED

America's Latest Dreadnought, the North Dakota, on Trial Off Cape Ann, Meets With Accident—Seventeen-Inch Tube Blows Out.

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 6.—Four men were severely scalded and twelve others were injured to a lesser extent through the bursting of a tube in one of the boilers on the new turbine battleship North Dakota during her four hour endurance run at top speed. The four who were severely scalded were brought here and taken to the naval hospital. They are Peter McDonnell and A. Peterson, both firemen; William H. Grange, water tender, and John Soudan, a gun passer. It is thought that they will all recover, but it is feared that Soudan may lose his eyesight. The other twelve men remained on board the battleship, their hurts being treated by physicians who are on the ship.

The North Dakota passed her four-hour speed test successfully, although the accident caused the steam to be cut down so that she just made her required speed of twenty-one knots during the last hour of her run, which was toward this port, because of an anxiety to get the injured men into a hospital as soon as possible.

She was well off the tip of Cape Ann when the accident occurred. The men in the fire room were attending to their regular duties well pleased that the ship was showing so much speed, when suddenly a seventeen-inch tube in one set of boilers blew out with great force. In an instant the fire room was filled with steam, the hot blast striking those nearest at hand with scorching effect. Other men rushed to the aid of the injured and carried them to a place of safety, the engineers having in the meantime shut off a battery of four boilers, in one of which was the broken tube.

A Service for Railroaders at Christian Church Tomorrow.

This is the second of a series of four sermons under the general title of "Are You a Christian?" The Men's Class of the Sunday School is making itself felt as sponsor for the evening services. There is the singing of gospel songs by the choir accompanied by an orchestra. In these days when the typical, average citizen is head on, full steam, throttle open in the commercial race, a service such as is proposed is a call to reverse the lever; apply the emergency brake and "Be Still and Know That I Am God." Psalms 46:10. The service will prove a bright hour to all who attend and all are welcome.

NEW COMPRESSOR PLANT BEING BUILT.

Frick Company Expending
Over $50,000 at Leisenring No. 1.

CONCENTRATING ITS FORCE

Is Being Erected to Supply Leisenring,
Trotter and Juniata Plants—Work
Will Be Completed in About Six Weeks.

Over $50,000 is being expended by the H. C. Frick Coke Company in the construction of a compressed air plant at Leisenring No. 1. An entirely new system has been adopted in the construction of the plant, the idea being to concentrate the work of the plant and supply it to other plants in the same neighborhood.

A compressed air plant is already in operation at Leisenring No. 1 and has been for several years. An addition is to be constructed to this and new machinery installed. It is expected that the plant will furnish sufficient pressure to Trotter and the Juniata plants and also increase the efficiency of the Leisenring plants.

There is over 11,000 feet of pipe to be laid to the Trotter plant which will be equipped with two compressed air engines. There will probably be six charging stations in the mine when the line is completed. The work has been carried on for several months and it will be upwards of six weeks before it is completed.

A large force of men is now engaged on the work and this will probably be increased. The work has given employment to many men and the general impression is that the output of the Trotter and Juniata plants will be greatly increased when it is finished.

METAL MARKET.

Bessemer Pig Iron Brings $19 and Smaller Lots Quoted $19.10.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The American
Metal Market and Daily Iron and Steel
Report says:

About 45,000 tons of standard Bessemer pig iron have been sold since our last review, at $19, valley, except for two 1,000-ton lots, which went at $19.10. The principal buyer was the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, which took 10,000 tons, 10,000 tons from one interest for November-December delivery, and 30,000 tons from another interest, for November to June delivery, $19 being paid in each case. The Massillon (C.) Iron & Steel Company has taken 10,000 tons of northern No. 3 and 4 country iron, for first half, at about $17, valley, for No. 4.

The average selling price of Bessemer pig iron in October was $18.75, or $1.31 above the September average, and $1.20 above the low month of the year, which was May. Sales of valley Bessemer pig iron at flat prices during September and October averaged and reached 30,000 tons, while with other deals involving Bessemer from the total transactions amounted to 40,000 tons, by far the best record for any consecutive months ever observed, except perhaps in cases in which a single large interest took a large tonnage. The September-October buying was well distributed among five large independent steel interests.

Pressure upon mills for delivery of finished steel products unabated, and if some of the finished steel tonnage being shipped is going into stocks, it is certain the great proportion is required for immediate consumption. The situation is very strong, with mills scrutinizing orders carefully and frequently slowing down tonnage offered.

An early advance in sheets is expected, owing to the heavy demand and the strong tone of the sheet bar market. The present market on sheet bar calls for a premium of $1.15 or $1.20 between black and galvanized sheets, instead of the usual premium of $1.05. The market for heavy melting scrap is slightly easier in the West and Central West.

Owing to the severe cut shortage in connection with the lake and movement, Pittsburgh coal has advanced 15 cents in the week, being now $1.25 for mine-run at mines.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Wholesale and Retail Trade Reports
More Than Satisfactory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Dun's Review of Trade will say today:

"Without exception the reports of trade, both wholesale and retail, in all parts of the country are more than satisfactory and hold out the promise for 1910 of a year of unequalled business. What this means, expressed in almost inconceivable figures, is that the United States is now increasing its wealth at a rate never before achieved. Neither the high prevailing prices nor the discussion of disputed economic theories seem in any way to shake confidence or check the industrial progress. In all the principal cities the advances are of an excellent retail distribution and the outlook for the holiday trade is very bright. The extraordinary advance and speculation in cotton is the most conspicuous adverse development.

"The remarkable progress in iron and steel is maintained and in October all previous records as to the amount of actual business booked were surpassed. In practically every division orders are received in heavy volume and many mills are falling volume behind in deliveries. Bookings by the steel companies are especially large and some important contracts are pending."

BARON LIANG AND PARTY HERE TO INVEST $20,000,000 IN SHIPS AND GUNS FOR CHINA

The most important event bearing upon the open door policy in China is the arrival in this country of a commission headed by Baron Liang, son of Liang Cheng, former Minister to the United States. The commission comes for a tour of inspection of all the shipyards and arms factories of the United States, and on these visits will depend the placing of contracts for $20,000,000 worth of battleships and war munitions. China is about to place contracts for several more modern battleships and a vast number of the guns for strengthening her coast defenses. The rapid increase and improvement of China's army, together with the purchase of war munitions, point more conclusively to the much talked of "awakening" than anything else. Similar commissions of inspection have been sent to other countries, and all the markets of the world are expecting a permanent business impulse as soon as the contracts are let. Baron Liang is one of the most highly educated men in the Orient. The members of the suit are all prominent in the affairs of the Empire. He was preceded to this country by Wang Chen of the Chinese foreign office and Captain Charles J. Pitt, artillery instructor to the Imperial Chinese Army. These men with the prominent officials who arrived the day before will accompany him on the inspection tour.

COLLECTING FACTS

New York Merchants Determined to Have Mr. Loeb Removed.

New York, Nov. 6.—The merchants who are going to Washington to ask President Taft to remove Collector William Loeb, Jr., and turn a searchlight on the custom house are collecting facts for the president's eye. They say that Mr. Loeb has been the patron of grafters without having the excuse that the evidence of the grafters was necessary to convict dishonest importers. One of the stories they want Mr. Taft and congress to look into concerns the promotion by Mr. Loeb of a foreman in the public stores.

From "higher up" this foreman, they say, was permitted to sell unclaimed lumber and pocket the proceeds. The money should have been turned into the treasury. The foreman put it in his pocket, it is claimed. Warehousemen of lumber used to cover the large cases automobiles imported into the country were salted away by the foreman, the merchants say. When enough had been collected he said it for what he could get. It is claimed his superiors knew it and that Mr. Loeb was in possession of the facts.

DIVIDEND HOPES DASHED

Bethlehem Company Not Yet Able to Pay Common Stock.

New York, Nov. 6.—In view of the general prosperity in the iron and steel trade and the vast improvement in business conditions some hope had been aroused among common stockholders of the Bethlehem Steel company that dividends would be resumed next year, but a statement made by President Charles M. Schwab tended to discourage this hope. Mr. Schwab stated that he did not think dividends could be resumed in the near future.

In explanation Mr. Schwab said that, although the plant of the Bethlehem Steel corporation was operated at full capacity, consideration had to be taken to the fact that personal funds had been advanced to supply floating capital of the company and until this was replaced he did not believe that it would be proper to take up the question of common stock dividends. He said that his chief interest now was to pay the preferred dividends. Mr. Schwab added that he was at present receiving no salary from the company.

has a decided advantage over the man who has not. He has a place where his money is kept safely—where it will earn interest if left for a definite time. He can borrow money from the bank when he needs it and the bank does many things for him, such as the collection of notes, drafts, checks—without charging him a cent.

This bank cordially invites you to open either a checking or savings account, or both, with it. Small accounts always welcome.

Club Standing.
Tigers	12	10
Cubs	12	7
Topnotchers	12	12
Athletics	8	10

The Athletics were in good form last night and the result was that the Topnotchers had to go the limit to win two of the three games. Both victories were by the narrowest kind of a margin. The games were rolled on the Temple alleys last night, the first for a week. Owing to the absence of Captain Davidson of the Cubs, that team did not roll the Tigers on Monday night.

All the teams are bunched now except the Athletics, who remain in the rack, but who are becoming more dangerous in every series.

Although the Topnotchers rolled a "dead man" for Graham in the first game, the Athletics were in such form that they would have won in any event. The men under Captain Norris took the second contest by seven pins and the third by 24 pins.

S. B. Dobbie of the Topnotchers was the bright and shining star last night. He set a new record for high total, having a score of 310 for the three games. He rolled 109, 102 and 99, which is the best work done yet. His average was 103 1/3 for the night. This is the first new record made for some weeks past and it clinches W. R. Long from the honor list. Long is an erratic roller, but is apt to break loose some evening and hang up a new mark for the others to aim at. The scores:

PERRY HIGH WINS FROM CHARLEROI TEAM

Eight of the Perry Boys Had Never

Score 10 to 0.

Special to The Courier.
PERRYPOLES, Nov. 6.—The second football game ever played in Perryopolis resulted yesterday in a victory for the Perryopolis High

High School Girls Raise Money For Boys' Athletic Association.

If the Conneltsville High School football team can play the game, as well as the girls of the Athletic Association can serve a meal there will be nothing to it but the Orange and Black for the balance of the season. The initial attempt of the girls was undertaken with many misgivings and culminated last night in the Y. M. C. A. assembly hall. Those who purloined of the supper declared it simply immense and a new rival has appeared in the lists for enjoying the reputation for serving the best meal at a social of this nature. The High School enthusiasts will back the girls to the limit.

There was an abundance to eat and plenty of dainty waitresses to see that none left hungry. One young man attempted to take everything that was handed him, but gave up the game as hopeless. His gastronomic capabilities were not equal to the occasion.

There were guests of honor, of course. The faculty had a special table, and perhaps that wasn't soft for the school teachers. They were served by all. Flunks and deficient marks were forgotten about, the dormitory system buried to the depths of oblivion and all was rosy when the faculty marched in. They were preceded by the football team. Then came a hitch. Professor B. D. Smith, Jr., the coach, sat with the team instead of with the other members of the faculty, and immediately had his hands full preventing the bery of adoring fans from filling the football team to overflowing. Mr. Smith kept reminding the boys they would have to play football tomorrow, and should not eat too much, but the temptation was so great it could not be entirely resisted.

Quite a few of the School Directors attended and those who stayed away sent their wives. They concluded there is no need for a domestic science class with girls in the school who can put up a meal like that last evening.

The School Directors are beginning to take a greater interest in High School athletics. The formation of an athletic governing board may ultimately result. Dr. White is displaying especial interest and is in favor of such a move. He argues that the High School boys would not be successful in raising the necessary funds, while if this was left in the hands of a governing board, which had power to supervise the expenditures and regulate the sports, there would be no lack of financial support.

School against the High School team from Charleroi. The score was 10 to 0. Eight of the Perryopolis players had never been in a game before, but they emerged without a scratch. The team averaged 150 pounds, but has a heavy backfield. The backs tore holes through the Charleroi line for big gains. When the visitors braced, the forward pass was attempted, mostly successful, too.

In the first half the Perryopolis boys worked the ball down the field by consistent football and soon chased Walter over the line for the first score. Charleroi tried hard to tie things up, but failed. In the second half M. Forsythe made another five points for the home team. The all round work of S. L. Townsend at right end for Perry was a feature of the game. Snyder ran the team from quarter with good judgment and to his guidance is principally due the success of the team. The lineup:

Perryopolis.
Mason	left guard	Blair
Ransome	center	Hamilton
Lee	right guard	Cordero
Chenier	right tackle	St. Miller
Wilson	right end	S. Townsend
Lawstator	quarter	Snyder
Cutter	right half	Smith
Nichol	full back	M. Forsythe
Touchdowns	M. Forsythe, Walter, Hefner, Eddie Hamer, Payette City.

The management is very fortunate to secure a man like Harper as this now enables them to send out the most practical boilermaker or machinist in the Conneltsville region, in cases of emergency.

THE FIRST CONTRACT OF A COKER PLAYER

Director Straub Receives Signature of
New Infielder—Is a Corner, Reports Say.

The first baseball contract for the 1910 season has been received by Director A. A. Straub of the Cokers. It is that of John J. Pfaler, an infielder, secured for the locals by Larry Sutton, the baseball scout. Pfaler turned down offers from both Johnstown and Holyoke to join the Cokers and from all reports he is a corner.

The youngster played with Easton and later with Elizabeth, in the Atlantic league. He batted .330 and was considered one of the fastest infielders in that clever organization which gave baseball Jack Miller of the Pirates and other stars.

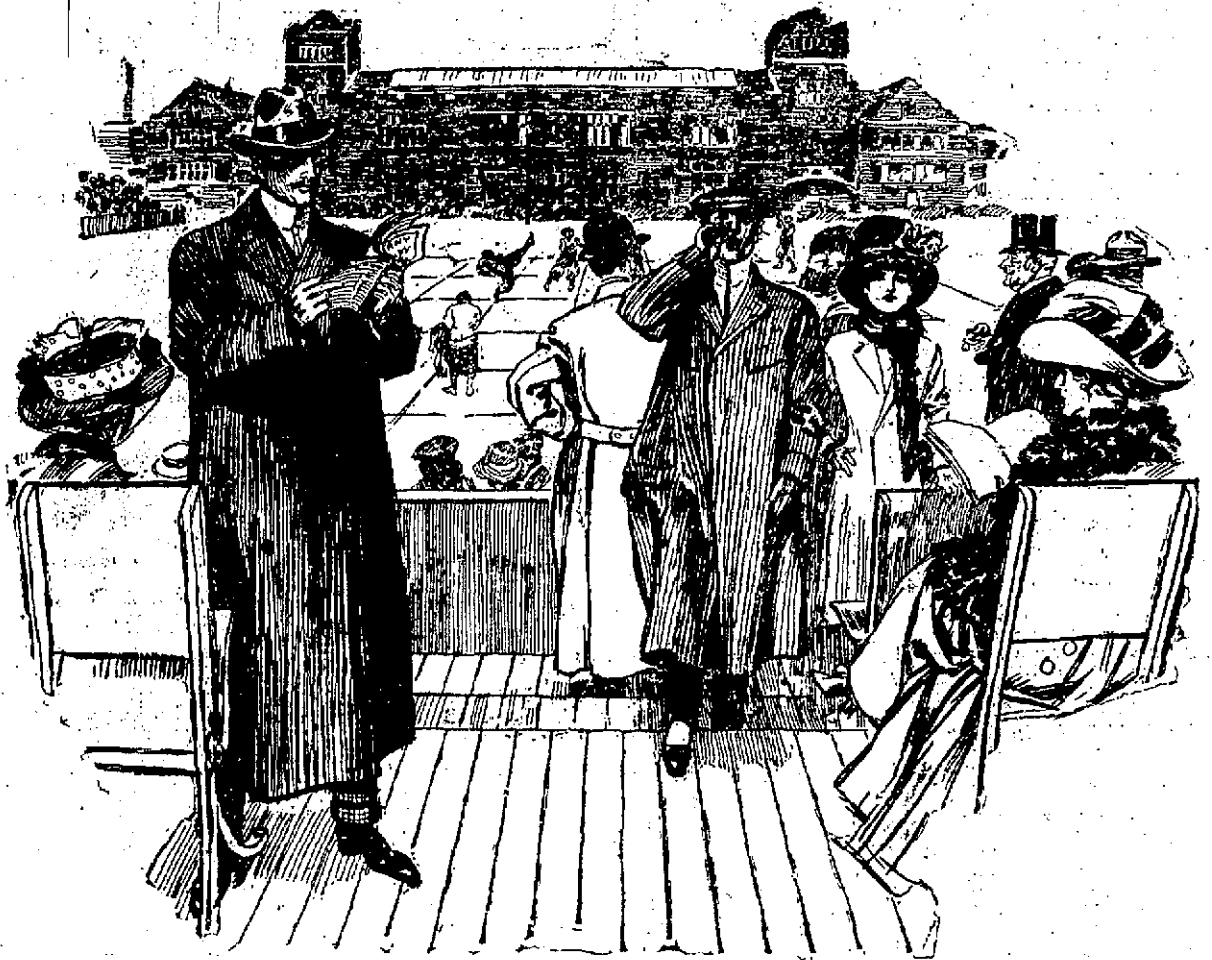

Sutton has under consideration an offer to secure a manager and team for Winston-Salem, N. C., but is holding it in abeyance until he finds all the men that will be needed by the Cokers. He has signed out for several promising youngsters who will be sent here.

Sutton is scouting for the New York Giants during the 1910 season. Last year he was with Brooklyn in a similar capacity and played Harry Myers of the Cokers for that team. He was so well pleased with the treatment that he received at the hands of President Brown and Director Straub that he volunteered to secure new material for the 1910 Cokers. Pfaler's contract is the first payment on this promise.

"The fans will forget the brands after they see Pfaler play one game," is Larry's terse comment.

Fairbanks Is Now Whiskerless.
Washington, Nov. 6.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States, has shaved off his whiskers. Photographs of Mr. Fairbanks taken in Japan and just received here show that he has discarded the chin beard which he wore so long. The deed was committed after he left this country for the Orient. Mr. Fairbanks retained his mustache.

Wright-Metzler's, Conneltsville.

HERE will be a number of occasions this Fall which will demand the wearing of warm clothes and exceptionally smart clothes. There will be times when Young Men will feel it very essential to be correctly and becomingly dressed. If you are to give these occasions the vigorous support which they must have, if they are a success, you must necessarily wear garments which will advance your enthusiasm. The most essential feature to the perfect support of your fellows is to have that confidence in yourself which correctly styled and exquisitely finished clothes assure.

Our clothes are made "for the man who cares." In cleverness they excel anything you have ever seen—in price they are moderate.
